

Framsokn values constitute the basis for the Party's ideology.

Framsokn is a Liberal Nationalistic Party.

Personal freedom, the right to work and National independence, are all basic core values, intended to guide and lead the Faroe Islands society down the right path once again.

Freedom of the nation and its people encourages self confidence, competence, creativity and the will to work. Freedom is therefore the aspect Framsokn prioritises most of all in their (our?) political agenda.

Personal freedom.

We wish to guarantee all people - irrespective of age, gender, creed, religion, social standing and sexual orientation – equal rights to live, work and function in the Faroe Islands society.

Freedom of enterprise

As a general rule, free enterprise creates the economic basis for a society. We believe that industry should be operated on a private basis. Public involvement should be kept to a minimum and its main role should be limited to ensuring free enterprise the optimum operational frameworks as well as guaranteeing that it is conducted and performed on a sustainable basis within this predetermined framework.

National Independence.

Framsokn wishes to see an independent Faroe Islands, in other words a Faroe Islands Republic. Only an independent Faroe Islands can command the unrestricted full membership necessary and required by the international community, with all its inherent advantages, and responsibilities.

We endeavour to create an open minded society.

A society with the freedom to live the life each individual chooses to live. Personal freedom is limited only by imagination, but must always be subject to responsibility and the acknowledgement of the right of others, who elect to live differently.

We are convinced that the willingness to work and create is best served, where there is room for individuality and diversity

We wish to create a society where the individual is responsible for his or her own life.

We wish to create a society where individuality thrives. We wish to halt the current development, whereby society is over-taxing and laying ever heavier burdens upon families and individuals, who are already working hard and doing their utmost to cope.

The individual should have the very best framework to pursue his or her objectives and dreams. This is best achieved by permitting people to freely utilise the skills and opportune abilities attained from birth.

It must be financially attractive to maximise the individual's work potential in a free market, where Public involvement is kept to a minimum.

Framsokn wishes to ensure core services within the welfare society.

The Public Health sector must be strengthened. It is necessary to re-focus attention upon the patient and provide specialists with the best environment possible so that they thrive and may develop professionally, thereby optimising every penny invested.

The education system must be improved. The number of higher education opportunities on offer must increase and be elevated to a higher level of competence, which is a necessity if we as a nation may increase our numbers and our wisdom.

The current numerous municipalities must be accumulated into fewer larger and stronger units capable of fulfilling the tasks, which are the most adjacent and important to you as a citizen.

We wish to have fewer rules, regulations and limitations.

Government must restrict and limit its involvement role as the controller and disperser. This is best achieved by industry through free enterprise.

We must implement a reduced administration. We should not be afraid to devolve and allocate a maximum number of tasks to the private sector to administer. We should privatise public enterprises, which are better served by the private sector.

We wish to make the Faroe Islands independent.

It is the ever continuing endeavour of independence that will deliver the greatest progress. Therefore, an independent Faroe Islands is the future objective of Framsókn.

We must accept the full responsibility to determine and control our own national fiscal affairs and initiate a development whereby the Danish State subsidy diminishes altogether over a predetermined period. This does not imply isolation - quite the contrary; independence implies that we command a stronger position through the joint cooperation with others. Independence delivers both competence and self-esteem, which shall portray the strongest characteristic trait of our personality as a nation.

Framsokn therefore regards and prioritises freedom as its most valuable asset.
